What is The Chocolatarium?

Visual Story

The Chocolatarium is a visitor attraction about chocolate in the centre of Edinburgh.

You can enter at our main door on Cranston Street.

Inside, there is a one-room shop where you can buy chocolate bars.

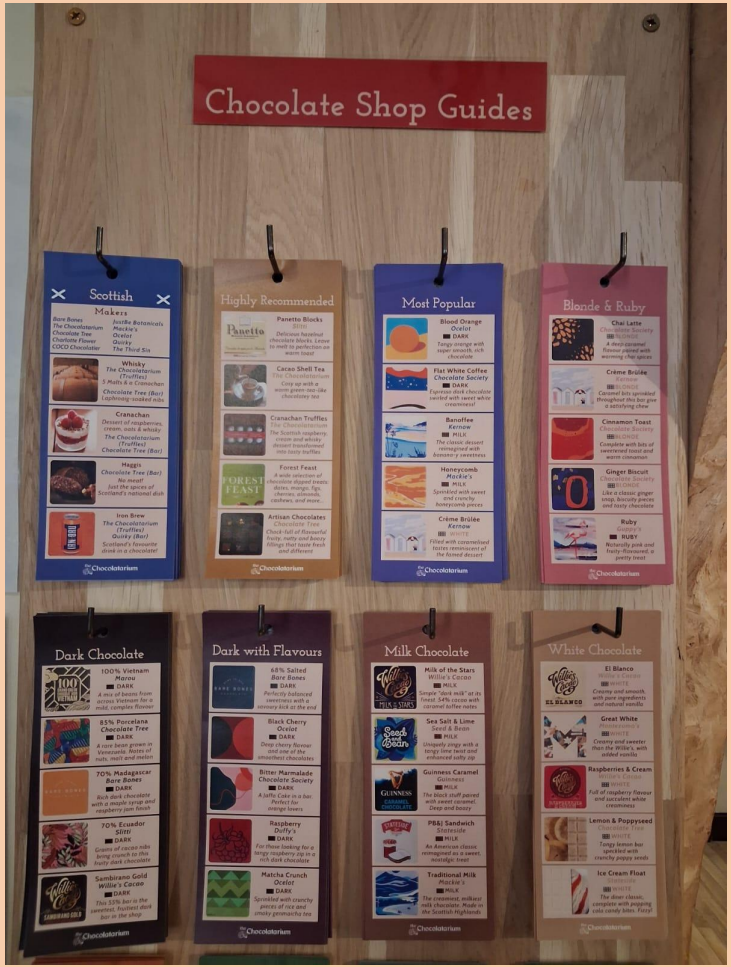

When it's busy, the shop can be noisy and there may be a few people close together.

If it feels too busy, you can step outside and come back in when you are ready.

Our staff wear aprons to help you know who they are.

You can use the Shop Guides to help you decide what chocolate to buy.

When you are ready to pay, you can go to the till.

The Chocolatarium also offers tours, where you can learn more about chocolate.

If you want to know more about our tours, you can ask one of our staff.

If you decide to book a tour, there will be another story to help you know what to expect.
